

As an avid listener of K-LOVE I want to make sure that LPFM does not displace current FM Translators like K-Love. K-LOVE is an excellent program that serves myself and others by providing christian music that I would otherwise not have available. When I consider the impact of replacing even one K-LOVE station as a result of the considered policy I am deeply saddened. I know of many people who have been personally affected (in a very positive way) by having had access to K-LOVE. These people often go on to help others and their community. In a society where most stations chase the dollar through more and more shock jock programming there must be a way to ensure that these existing stations do not lose ground. I would argue that the listener supported stations must have priority over simple for profit stations since listener supported stations are desired by the people as evidenced by the fact that people fund them. Sure shock radio makes money, but few would pay for such content. If we consider the impact on society we must make sure that the FCC's actions do not impact such valuable content that serves to make our society better.
